SOMA-Q

FOR YOU

Restore your energy and clarity, and build the skill to keep them.

Soma-Q is a nervous system alignment practice. I turn nervous system literacy into repeatable practice, so you notice stress sooner, shift your state in the moment and recover faster, at work and at home.

Who this is for

The common thread is not your title. It is pressure.

Health
Sleep that does not restore you

Wealth
Decisions made from pressure, not clarity

Relationships
Less patience for the people you love

Career
Leading well outside, running on empty inside

Three programs, one method

Program	The outcome it is designed to build	Format
Precision Rebalancing Protocol 4 WEEKS	Get back to steady quickly, while your system still has flexibility.	Four 60-minute virtual sessions, one each week
Rapid Reset Protocol 16 WEEKS, RECOMMENDED	Move out of survival mode and restore your energy, clarity and creative capacity.	Sixteen weeks of one-to-one sessions and a personalized practice plan
Extended Transformation 12 MONTHS	Make steady, embodied leadership the way you lead every day.	Ongoing sessions, quarterly re-assessment and progress reviews

Every program includes the Soma-Q Assessment, practices of five to twenty minutes a day, and session notes. Pricing is discussed on a discovery call. This work suits leaders who want practical tools and measurable progress and will commit to short daily practices. It complements, and does not replace, medical or mental health care.

How progress is measured

Before each session you complete the Soma-Q Weekly Check-In, a short set of questions scored from 0 to 10. Your Soma-Q Metrics Report shows how clearly you think, how steady you stay and how quickly you recover, week by week, so progress is something you can see.

SOMA-Q

FOR YOUR TEAM

Leaders and teams that keep their energy, clarity and connection under pressure.

Soma-Q is a workplace well-being partner delivering nervous system training for performance and productivity, measured the whole-human way: energy, focus, recovery and connection.

Your people know what to do. Pressure decides whether they can reach it.

Organizations have invested in knowledge, leadership development and wellness resources. Soma-Q works at the layer those often leave underdeveloped: the physiological capacity of the people expected to use everything they know while under pressure.

Ways to work together

Engagement	What it is
Leadership and team engagements MOST ORGANIZATIONS	A cohort program built around your pressure points, with a baseline, facilitated training, practice between sessions, weekly measurement and a final report.
Presence Under Pressure™ workshops HALF DAY	A shared language for nervous system regulation and practical tools leaders can use the same afternoon.
Organizational partnership ONGOING	A longer relationship that builds nervous system literacy into how your organization leads, with individual support for selected leaders.

How an engagement works

Discover	Baseline	Train	Practice	Measure	Integrate	Report
Pressure points and goals	Agree what is measured	Experiential training	Short daily practices	Weekly progress	Skills become behavior	What changed, what is next

How progress is measured

Every engagement starts with a baseline and tracks progress weekly through the SQ-LPMS (Soma-Q Leadership Progress Measurement System): the SQ-M shows how the method is taking hold, and the SQ-C shows how leadership competencies shift. Sponsors see where capacity is strengthening and where it is still constrained. Organizational outcomes such as focus, capacity and retention are designed to be supported by this work. Soma-Q does not promise a percentage drop in burnout, turnover or cost.

Who it serves. Executive and senior leadership teams, founder-led and high-growth companies, professional services firms, education and public service, healthcare organizations, and teams navigating change or sustained demand.

Who is behind it. Megan McDonald, Founder. Thirteen years as a healthcare technology executive, running virtual acute medicine care delivery alongside neurologists, psychiatrists and emergency teams. Soma-Q is education and training, not treatment.
